

ABOUT THE BRAND

In 1994, John Masters, a leading stylist in New York City, had a simple but radical idea. He believed that nature is the best source for clean beauty. His personal passion for healthy, holistic living became a professional calling, drawing John away from the posh world of New York salons to pursue a better, gentler way to care for hair.

John began working with the best organic ingredients available and seeing clients out of his tiny Manhattan apartment. Soon he opened the world's first "clean air" salon in Soho. It was a revolutionary salon concept that used no damaging colorants and no chemical treatments, not even hairspray.

AMENITY COLLECTION

Today, John's singular vision has become a global brand that continues to transform the organic and natural beauty industry. By harnessing the power of organic and natural ingredients, John Masters Organics creates high-performing hair, skin and body products that are clean, cruelty-free and sustainable. We hold our products to the same high standards in which we live our daily lives by considering ingredient quality, community and wellness while creating our effective and indulgent plant-based formulas. The amenity bottles are made of 100% post-consumer recycled plastic, they are 100% recyclable for global recycling programs.
